“Preparing Special Needs Populations
for Public Health Emergencies” Webinar

Wednesday, June 29th, 2011
1:00pm – 2:00pm

Recent emergencies such as H1N1 have made the public more aware of the need to be prepared in case of an emergency. This concern is even more severe for special needs populations, also known as functional needs populations. This webinar will highlight the following:

1. Recommended emergency planning components and new resources for agencies serving special needs populations;
2. New regulations affecting agencies serving special needs populations; and
3. An update on the work of the Special Needs Advisory Panel and the Community Communication Network.

How to Register:

Space is limited. Reserve your Webinar seat by logging on to:
